In the Matter of
Family and Children First Council
Discussion with June Green, and Nick Tatman, JFS:

Nick Tatman (Job and Family Services) and June Green (Family and Children First Council, FCFC) met with the Commissioners to request $25,000.00 in funding for FCFC. Last year FCFC did not ask for funds because it received extra court funds, which are no longer available due to funding cuts. On Mr. Tatman's and Sarah Scott's recommendation, FCFC applied for and received a $10,000.00 Ohio Children's Trust Fund grant, which paid for last April's Family Funday for Pickaway County residents. FCFC would like to hold the event again this year. FCFC is also working with the State on kindergarten readiness: Pickaway County is at 47%, and the State expects 60%. Reaching that goal means working with head start and preschools to improve quality and enroll more children and finding ways to support learning at home. Ideas include a readiness camp and information packets for families. The Early Childhood Collaborative Committee is open to all county schools, and most head starts and preschools that are in Pickaway County that is who is discussing these ideas. We also put on a baby shower in the spring and the annual fall kindergarten art show at the library. FCFC is also working with a young person whose divorced parents have different mindsets. After FCFC discussed intensive home-based services with the family, they reported the young person is doing much better since working with FCFC. Ms. Green said FCFC wants to keep making a difference for these families. Mr. Tatman added that FCFC and JFS work well together, and without FCFC many more children would be in JFS's care.

In the Matter of
Park District Board:

Park District Board Members Greg Bigam and Cindy Whited and Interim Director Jamie Landis met with the Commissioners to provide an update. Mr. Bigam reported that the board is down two members and hopes to fill those seats soon because we have decisions to make. Mr. Landis stated that the Park District is financially stable through 2027. The Park District received a Transportation Alternative Program (TAP) Grant to expand Pickaway Trail and add bridges, with trail clearing set to begin in a few weeks. At Cooks Creek this year, the public restrooms were refurbished, and the west end of the building was remodeled into office space. The Park District is also working toward a Nature Center in the Central Area and discussed adding a levy renewal to the spring ballot.

In the Matter of
Fourth District Court of Appeals Update:

Judge Mike Hess, Magistrate Tasha Ruth, and County Prosecutor Jayme Hartley Fountain met with the Commissioners to discuss office space in the Fourth District Court of Appeals suite at the Service Center. Judge Hess said he believes an office can be consolidated for Ms. Hartley Fountain, though help moving furniture will be needed. County Administrator Marc Rogols asked for one day's notice before maintenance is required to move furniture. Ms. Hartley Fountain is entitled to a secretary and plans to bring in someone part-time, so there will be an office needed for them as well. Her staff attorneys will be in the office only a couple of times a week and can use the conference room. Judge Hess also noted that space may become an issue in the future: as the Administrative Office for Pickaway County, the court may add more staff members.
